Services will be conducted in the Congregational Church next Sunday by Rev. B. F. Matrau, there being no service in Christ Church on account of the repairs being made.

The steeple on the Baptist church has been finished off in a way that the members may justly feel proud of and that reflects great credit on the architects, Messrs. White & Paine.

On our supplement this week is a large amount of very interesting and important reading matter, which should be carefully perused by all of our readers. The article on State affairs being of special importance.

The school book question being of so much importance we again print the article written by the County Board of Examiners. It is well worth the closest attention of every person who has to buy school books.

At the Central Michigan fair a banner is awarded the county winning the largest amount of money premiums in certain classes. This year Livingston county was successful in taking the prize. Shiawassee county being sixth—but four counties below us.

Rev. Geo. H. Wilson left for his home in Biddeford, Maine, on Monday morning. He will probably accept the call extended to him by the Congregational church and in that event will move here about December 1st.

The excursion to Detroit given by the Congregational Sunday School on Tuesday last, was a success financially, notwithstanding the rain in the morning kept some at home. The school will clear about $65—thus securing a good fund toward the Christmas tree.

Cryler & Manzer have opened a new grocery store at Durand where they will keep on sale all articles in their line. They are young men of good business habits and they should be well patronized by those around Durand. Call on them in the old Harrington building.

"Our Continent" is fast becoming one of the most popular magazines in the country. The last number is indeed a beautiful one. Besides a large amount of reading matter, it contains several fine portraits, that of Bronson Alcott being of more than usual interest as the life of this eminent man is endangered by serious sickness.

Quarterly meeting services will be held at the Methodist Church next Sabbath. Rev. J. S. Smart will hold the Quarterly Conference on Saturday evening and preach Sunday evening. After a brief sermon Sunday morning the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered and members received. Sunday School at the usual hour.

We think the terrible accident which resulted in the death of Mr. Vandekarr should cause the people to demand that a flagman be stationed at the crossing of the D. & M. railway near the Estey factory. When driving south it is almost impossible to tell when trains are coming from the west and it is to be wondered at that so few accidents do occur.

The Mason News says: "C. A. Towne, who is billed for several meetings in this county, as will be seen by reference to another column, is one of the best posted men on finance in the State. He makes his points so plain that the veriest child can understand them. Everywhere where he has spoken he is wanted again. He deserves large audiences and is sure to get them."

The Ann Arbor Courier, speaking of a public entertainment given by Prof. Douglass' elocutionary class, has the following concerning an Owosso boy: "The third and fifth selections were scenes from the School for Scandal between Sir Peter and Lady Teazle, given in costume by Mr. Jesse Shattuck and Miss Mabel Beal. The piquant repartee of the latter and the dignified demeanor of the former rendered the scenes very amusing."

The hunting party consisting of Messrs. Warner and Butler, of Mendon, Penn., and Carpenter and Matlock of this city, whom we mentioned several weeks since as having gone to Ogemaw county, returned last Friday. During their stay in the woods they killed twenty-five deer, a great many ducks and caught an almost innumerable number of Black Bass and Pickerel. They report having a very pleasant time and being more fortunate than their friends in neighboring camps in that no accidents befell any of them. Mr. Geo. Carpenter has our thanks for several pounds of venison.

There are two prominent notices which induce people to witness a thrilling drama. One is to forget their own sorrows, by seeing others depicted vividly, the other, to drown business cares, and domestic trials, by spending an evening where one can enjoy a hearty laugh. We are to have in town Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week Samuel Johnson's comedy, "The Fireman" with Agnes A. Houghton the popular elocutionist and actress, as Alice Hawthorne and the genial T. J. Horsman as Fred Jerome. The rest of the caste is composed of local talent, all favorites here. There has been one slight change in the programme, Miss Hattie Rowell, will take the place of Miss Ada Crippen. Miss Houghton brings the very best endorsements from the "press" and we prophesy she will be a favorite here and the people will give her, and the "Club" packed houses during the evening.

Miss H. will introduce a recitation in which the eastern papers claim she has no equal. Tickets now ready at the Post Office. Secure them early.

Little Maudie Abbott, of Detroit, will introduce songs in the "Fireman" on Wednesday and Thursday evenings; this child is being educated for the stage, and all the young folks should see her.

GEO. W. SICKLES,

Sec'y Board Examiners.

Pittsburg.

On Friday evening of last week, S. F. Smith and S. E. Parkill, of Owosso, delivered two exceedingly fine speeches here. The attendance was not, however, very good, owing to a failure to properly advertise the meeting. Mr. Parkill led off with a speech that commanded the closest attention for over an hour and a quarter. Stan. is an old Pittsburg boy and we all felt a great interest in this, his first attempt at political speaking. He dealt with the tariff in a way that might well excite the envy of many older campaigners. His speech was thoroughly logical, brim full of facts and delivered in a pleasing, yet forcible manner. He plainly showed that, with riper experience, he would be fitted to take a commanding place among the leaders of Michigan. Mr. Smith followed with a speech, well calculated to rouse up Republicans to do their duty. He had his speech well-in-hand and fully sustained his reputation as one of the best orators in Saginaw valley.

Wheat is looking well and we rejoice thereat.
